

Dear Forman Parents,

The 2018 Fall Parents' Weekend is a great opportunity for you to discover the richness and variety of your child's Forman experience. You placed your child at Forman because you have faith in our ability to not only help your son or daughter succeed academically, but also so they can reach their full, all-around potential. Your visit this Parents' Weekend gives you a chance to see the various ways Forman is working with your child both in and out of the classroom.

The biggest draw of Parents' Weekend is the parent-teacher-student conference. All parents have the chance to conduct an intimate and focused conversation with teachers on the progress and prospects of their child. Our faculty is our greatest asset and we urge you to take advantage of this opportunity for a thoughtful, ongoing dialogue on how your child is faring at Forman. Teacher conference times are available both Friday and Saturday. A good approach is to spread them out over two days so that you have time to attend the various Parent Education Sessions offered.

Parents' Weekend also allows for time to relax and socialize. We will be hosting our annual reception on Friday night for senior parents at our house before the fifth annual Fall Festival on The Green from 6:15 to 8:00 pm. There will be student musical performances in the Malcolm Chace Student Center and Peirce Dining Hall. The Lion's Den Bistro will be open and there will be a chance to gather around the fire pit too.

There is no greater pleasure than the opportunity to make a difference in the life of a child, and we take that precious responsibility very seriously. Thank you for giving us the chance to know your child and to be part of his or her story. Enjoy the weekend and know we are very glad you will be with us.

Sincerely,
Adam and Beth Man
